LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Welcome to the first Annual Report of the Erie to Pittsburgh Trail Alliance. 2018 was a very busy year for the Alliance. The year began with the completion our first strategic plan, the tool that will be used to guide our future projects and activities. The Alliance has worked and made progress on several of the key goals of the plan. Committees have been formed, including a gap committee to identify and analyze the missing gaps in the Erie to Pittsburgh Trail. This information will be invaluable moving toward completion of the corridor. Other committees include marketing and financial.

The formation of these committees provides an opportunity for more individuals from our member organizations to get involved in activities and further the vision of the Alliance. The member organizations are the heart of the Alliance. I look forward to the upcoming year to provide more support for our member organizations and encourage work to further the vision of the Erie to Pittsburgh Trail Alliance.

Sincerely,
Barney Scholl, President

2018 TRAIL ACCOMPLISHMENTS

THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF OUR TRAIL GROUPS ALONG THE CORRIDOR

The projects included over $150,000 of volunteer work equity used as matches for several grants. Funding sources were from DCNR, PennVEST, Volunteer Fund of the Pittsburgh Foundation, PennDOT, Allegheny Valley Land Trust, Armstrong Rails to Trails Association and private donations.
- Awarded DCNR funding to improve accessibility ($79,301) in the Templeton and Rimer area on the Armstrong Trail.
- Awarded over $1.3 million to stabilize the North Portal of the Brady Tunnel and to fund the engineering & designing of the rehabilitation work needed to reopen the Brady Tunnel.

Redbank Valley Trail
- The Over $2 million Climax Tunnel project was completed, it was the first DCNR Top 10 Trail Gaps to be eliminated and open to the public. The 8 year project involved funding from PennDOT, DCNR, Allegheny Valley Land Trust, ACT 13 Funds from the Greenways, Trails and Recreation Fund through the Commonwealth Finance Authority and DCED, The Trail Volunteer Fund, Redbank Valley Trails Association, and hundreds of hours of volunteer work.
- Five miles of trails were improved on the Sligo Spur.

Allegheny River Trail
Allegheny Valley Trails Association repaired drainage, smoothed and surfaced ½ mile of trail that detours onto a private drive known as Sunny Slopes. Total cost of the project was $30,343.

Oil Region Alliance
The Oil Region Alliance contracted with professional services to assist trail advocates/builders in high priority gap areas along the Erie to Pittsburgh Trail system to evaluate and prepare an action plan, and work to move trail projects forward. Focusing on Corry, PA to East Branch Trail, East Branch Trail to Centerville, and Emleton to Foxburg.

Bike Friendly Communities
Franklin, PA was once again named a Bronze level Bicycle Friendly Community by the League of American Bicyclists. “Since the creation of the Bicycle Friendly Community program in 1995 there have been over 1500 community applications processed by League staff. There are currently 464 recognized Bicycle Friendly Communities and nearly 100 Honorable Mention communities.” There are only seven other communities in Pennsylvania that are designated as a “Bike Friendly Community.” Franklin, along with the City of Pittsburgh (Bronze certified), are the only two communities along the EPT that have this prestigious designation.

Towns & Trails
The economic benefits of a growing outdoor recreational market give towns with trail access greater opportunities to attract both visitors and business investment. With funding from the Benedum Foundation and the Pennsylvania Environmental Council, communities began the development of strategies to bond the trail users with the services provided by the community. The installation of 5 different kiosks on the Armstrong and Redbank Valley Trails are examples of the towns becoming more trail user-friendly.

Erie to Pittsburgh Trail Alliance
The Erie to Pittsburgh Trail Alliance acquired trail counters, thanks to the Rails to Trails Conservancy arm of the Industrial Heartland Trail Coalition. These counters provide the opportunity for our member groups the ability to better document trail usage.
